GERMANS TRYING TO CUT LINES OF COMMUNICATION

Teutons Maintain Their Efforts to Destroy Paris-Flamers Railroads.

ALSACE TOWN IS RECAPTURED

Kaiser's Forces, at the Cost of Very Heavy Losses, Retake Burnhaupt-le-Haut—Allies Gain at Other Points.

By FRANKLIN P. MERRICK.
International News Service Correspondent.
Paris, Jan. 11.—Fighting in the vicinity of Amiens indicates that the Germans are maintaining their efforts to break through the allies and cut the lines of communication running to Flanders from Paris. An official statement issued here says that there have been artillery duels in the Amiens region and in the vicinity of Arras.

In the vicinity of Soupir the French have captured Hill No. 132 in three attacks and have repulsed all the efforts of the Germans to regain their positions. The French gain in this region consists of three lines of German trenches along a front of 600 yards.

The official statement says that the Germans have bombarded Solsoons and burned the palace of Justices there. The official communiqué follows:

"To the south of Ypres we have damaged the trenches of the enemy and silenced his mine throwers.

"In the region of Arras and in that of Amiens there have been artillery duels, our batteries having a marked advantage.

Capture Three Lines of Trenches.

"In the region of Soupir we captured Hill No. 132 in a brilliant engagement, making three attacks. During the day the enemy made violent counter-attacks. He was repulsed every time. Our gain represents three lines of German trenches on a front of 600 yards.

"The enemy, being unable to retake the positions which he had lost, bombarded Solsoons and burned the palace of Justices there.

To the south of Ypres and of Arras, our batteries have silenced the enemy's artillery and wrecked some trenches.

"In the region of Perthes the enemy made a pronounced attack, to which we immediately responded with a counter-attack. This permitted us not only to hold our position on Hill No. 200, west of Perthes, but also to capture 400 yards of the enemy's trenches between Hill No. 200 and the village of Perthes.

"In addition a single attack directed by us upon Perthes, at the same time that we were making our counter-attack upon Hill No. 200 made us masters of that village. We have taken up our position there and have advanced beyond its borders. Our total gain from this side was more than five hundred yards in depth upon the whole front.

GERMANY TO DICTATE PEACE

Kaiser Tells Prussian Guards They Are Fighting a Brave Enemy, But Must Win.

Amsterdam, Jan. 11.—"We are fighting a brave enemy. Nevertheless the war will not end before our adversaries are beaten and Germany is able to dictate peace."

The foregoing statement is part of an address made by Emperor William to the Prussian guards on their boxing day, and printed in German papers received here.

Bandits Kill Policemen.

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—Police Sergeant Michael F. Gibbons, a cousin by marriage of Mayor Kiel, was shot and almost instantly killed by two bandits who discovered him on a watchman and blowing the safe in the Delaware station of the Wabash railroad here.

Wabash Official Promoted.

New York, Jan. 11.—J. C. Ottesen, for many years secretary of the Wabash railroad, has been elected vice-president, succeeding Edgar T. Wells.

Price of Beef to Go Up.

Cargo, Jan. 11.—J. O. Kennerly, who has been in the country of a beef and higher prices throughout the country.

MISS MARIE TAILER

Miss Marie Tailer of New York, who was pronounced "the most beautiful girl in the United States" by the Grand Duke Michaelovitch, cousin of the czar, is to be married to S. Bryce Wing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Wing. Miss Tailer was a popular debutante last winter and is a very talented girl. She is the daughter of James Lee Tailer.

TURN GERMAN WEDGE

Kaiser's Troops Now Headed Toward the Vistula River.

Czar's Army Continues Offensive Against the Retreating Austrians—Only 30 Miles From Hungary.

Paris, Jan. 11.—The Petrograd correspondent of Le Matin telegraphs that the Russians have entered Transylvania after traversing Bukovina.

By FRANCIS L. MURRAY.
International News Service Correspondent.
Petrograd, Jan. 11.—Pressure by great Russian forces that have been sent from Warsaw has turned the point of the German wedge in Poland from the direction of the Polish capital and the troops of Field Marshal

Paul von Hindenburg toward the Vistula river between Warsaw and Lvov.

An official statement issued here said that the Germans had advanced so far as Mogilnica, 26 miles from the junction of the Pilica and the Vistula. In the angle formed by these two rivers the Germans will find great difficulty. Numerous little streams run through this region.

It is possibly the purpose of the Germans, turned for the time being from their attack upon Warsaw, to cut off completely from Lvov. They can sever water communication by reaching the Vistula and planting their artillery on its western bank, but they cannot cut rail communication before crossing the Vistula, a feat they were unable to accomplish in their first campaign against Lvov.

The conflict in the Mlava region of northern Poland continues without decisive result. The military experts assert, however, that a Russian retirement there would result in no danger to Warsaw, as the troops held at Novo Georgievsk would be able to prevent the investment of the capital. The latest official statement says:

"On the left bank of the Vistula river along the front from Soukha as far as Mogilnica, the fighting is becoming more stubborn. In spite of their great losses the Germans are persistently attacking our trenches. The Russians are making counter-attacks and are repulsing the enemy with their bayonet charges. In the region of Mogilnica the Russians captured several officers and more than one hundred men on January 7."

Continuing their offensive against the retreating Austrians in Bukovina, the Russians are now only 30 miles from the Borgo Pass, the main entrance to Hungary from Bukovina through the Carpathians, having captured the town of Kimpolung on the Moldava river.

RELIEF SHIP GOES ASHORE

Steamer John Harvie, Bound for Rotterdam With Supplies for Belgians, Is in Trouble.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 11.—The steamer John Harvie, the Maryland relief ship, bound for Rotterdam with supplies for the suffering Belgians, is ashore near the mouth of the Rappahannock river, five miles north of Old Point Comfort, on the western shore of Virginia.

S. B. Leggett Dies.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—S. B. Leggett, secretary of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, is dead in Pittsburgh, of apoplexy. The announcement was made in Chicago by officials of the Pennsylvania company.

Full Pardons Granted.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 11.—Full pardon to about fifty hundred persons convicted in this state of various crimes and paroled since January 1, 1911, was granted by Governor Blease.

WILSON'S SPEECH STIRS UP GOSSIP

President's Hint That He Will Be Candidate Discussed in Washington.

LET'S IMPRESSION REMAIN

Administration Policies Are Defended and the Republicans Attacked in Indianapolis Address—To Push the Ship Purchase Bill.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Gossip is general among the president's friends over the meaning back of his statement in his speech at Indianapolis that "there may come a time when the American people will have to judge whether I know what I am talking about or not."

Some of his friends insist that the president was merely referring to the fact that future generations will judge his actions and that he did not intend to convey the impression which was gained by the crowd, that he was a candidate again for the presidency.

Let's Crowd's Impression Stand. Others of his friends point out that he evidently realized, because of the cheering, the construction that had been placed on his words, and yet he did not correct the impression beyond saying: "I didn't intend to start anything then."

The president returned to Washington fully prepared to push his government ship purchase bill. He served notice in his speech that he will do everything possible to overcome opposition to the bill.

Mr. Wilson will try to send to the senate the nominations of the trade commission members soon after his return.

Attacks the Republican Party.

In his speech the president attacked the Republican party, defended the record of his administration on the Mexican policy, and the tariff and currency questions and asserted that careful examination of the return from the elections last November showed that if it had been a presidential year a Democrat would have had a majority of about eighty in the electoral college.

The president criticized Republican senators opposing the government ship purchase bill and charged that they were "self-styled friends of business." He said the Republican party has not had a new idea in 30 years and that "the Republicans do not know how to do anything but sit on the lid." He added that the country wants the ship purchase bill enacted into law and "will have it."

A warning to Democrats not to break up the solidity of the party was spoken gravely by Mr. Wilson. He said that any such men would gain an unenviable position for themselves, and mentioned Senators Kern and Shively of Indiana as men whom he "did not have to lie awake nights thinking about."

He continued that "if a man won't play on a team he must get off the team," and later spoke of himself as "the captain of the Democratic team for the present."

BUSINESS MAN KILLS SELF

Member of New York Brokerage Firm Commits Suicide Following Failure of the Concern.

New York, Jan. 11.—Within an hour after the announcement of the failure of his firm had been posted on the New York Stock Exchange, G. F. Stringer, Jr., committed suicide in his office at 4 Exchange place.

The brokerage firm of which Stringer was a member was that of C. F. Stringer & Co., the senior partner being the father of the broker who committed suicide.

Stringer shot himself through the mouth and his body was found lying under a desk with the revolver only a few feet away.

STILL DISCUSSING PROTEST

Fifth Session of British Cabinet Held to Consider Reply to President Wilson.

London, Jan. 11.—The cabinet held its fifth session to discuss the final British reply to the American note protesting against interference with United States commerce. Though one reply has been sent to Washington, this did not fully cover the situation and a more detailed response is to be made.

The preparation of this document will consume considerable time. A dozen attaches of the foreign office, board of trade, and admiralty are gathering the data for it, but it probably will not be completed for nearly a week.

Boone Descendant Drowned.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11.—Miss Pearl Boone, twenty, a descendant of Daniel Boone, and Richard Friend, twenty-five, were drowned near Hodgenville while trying to ford a river in a buggy.

Steel Business Improves.

New York, Jan. 11.—The United States Steel corporation reported an increase in sales of December 31, at $3,366,645 tons, against $3,224,592 on November 30, an increase of $1,142,053 tons.

work in the manufacture of articles, the state furnishing the necessary machinery and material. In the present instance, it will be necessary to purchase material only as the machinery is already installed.

Disburse School Fund Installment.

The fifth installment of the state school fund for the present school year was distributed, a total of $554,403.24 being sent to the county and city schools. The balance in the treasury to the credit of the school fund January 1 was $1,149,000. Three years ago there was a deficit of $553,000 at this season in the school fund. There are sufficient funds in the treasury to the credit of the school department now to pay the February distribution, which is the last of the year. State Superintendent Hamlett estimates that after the February payment there will be a balance of $500,000 to the credit of the schools, notwithstanding the fact that the per capita was increased this year from $4 to $4.50, a gross increase of about $500,000 in the amount distributed. The total amount distributed this year by the state will approximate $3,328,849.49.

Carnegie Medal For Flood Rescuer.

As a recognition of his bravery in saving lives at Hickman, Ky., in the flood of April, 1912, William B. Charlton, of Hopkinsville, has been awarded a Carnegie medal and $1,000 in cash. In a letter from F. M. Wilmot, chairman of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, the announcement is made that, after an investigation of his deeds, at the request of citizens of Hickman, the commission is ready to award him a bronze medal and $1,000 for "a worthy purpose."

Mr. Charlton is now making his home in Stewart county, Tennessee, near Dover, and elected to have the money invested in a farm adjoining his present home, and Chairman Wilmot writes that this will be satisfactory. Mr. Charlton, who is 27 years old, was living at Hickman at the time of the flood.

GERMAN AIRMEN HIT ALLIES

Three Towns Bombed by Aircraft—Number of Soldiers Killed and Stores Destroyed.

Berlin (via Amsterdam), Jan. 11.—Attacks by German aviators on the allies at several points are reported in an official statement issued here. It said:

"German aircraft bombarded Hazebrouck and Strazelee. They were pursued by British airmen and the result of the aerial engagement is not known. Other airmen bombarded Armentieres, causing an explosion at the railway depot and killing a number of soldiers. The German aircraft later fired on the enemy's positions at Armentieres and damaged several houses occupied by troops."

Near Verdun, German aviators bombarded the French troops in the forest with success.

BATTLE STILL IN PROGRESS

Carranzista and Villista Troops in Desperate Struggle—Both Well Equipped With Artillery.

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 11.—The battle of Saltillo, in which 25,000 Carranzista and Villista troops are engaged, is still in progress, according to news received at Nuevo Laredo. The Villistas are said to have taken the city, but their foes made several attacks during the night and succeeded in gaining a foothold on the outskirts of the town.

Both sides are well equipped with artillery and heavy damage has been done by shells fired into the city, the guns of the Carranzista troops against one company, which, it is charged, formed a pool and trust agreement with seven others. The information will charge that while these seven companies have filed dissolution papers they maintain the same plants and conduct business at the same offices as before the dissolution.

A BREAD RIOT IN BELGIUM.

Amsterdam.—A dispatch to the Tel. agraaf from Brussels says: "A bread riot has taken place at Marcinelle, province of Hainaut, Belgium. A crowd collected around the town hall and broke its windows. The police restored order with difficulty, and later bread was supplied to the populace. The German army is suffering considerably of pneumonia."

Libraries of State Increasing.

Reports of the Kentucky library commission show that the state library has 9,841 volumes. During the last six months the accession was 1,214. There are public libraries in 41 counties of Kentucky, and college or special libraries in 12. Altogether there are 45 public libraries and 17 college or special, new libraries having been established since the last report in Ashland, Bardwell, Erlanger, Georgetown and Stanford. Twenty-three public and six college libraries have buildings of their own.

FEARS OF PUBLIC ARE AROUSED.

New York.—The accident that happened in the subway has turned the town topsy-turvy, and nothing else has been talked of here, since it was known, but the dangers to the passengers upon the subways and elevated through the use of wooden cars. There was but one death as a result of the accident, but the fact that more than 300 were face to face with death for a long time and that many are in the hospital in consequence of the fire, has greatly aroused the inhabitants.

They are indebted to Dr. S. R. Collier for a dozen as nice oranges and a fourth dozen as fine specimens of grapefruit as we have ever seen. The fruit grew on Dr. Collier's grove near Leesburg, Fla.

He is having a home built down there and will probably spend his winters hereafter in the land of fish, fruit and flowers.

Tired of Being Worked.

The Times-Journal is pleased to note that few of the newspapers of the State are making use of the three, four and five-column write-ups being sent them in plate form by candidates for the various State offices, which they expect inserted free of cost.—Bowling Green Times-Journal.

Gas Well.

The Morgan County Heat, Fuel, and Light Company have drilled in a new gas well on the Caskey farm on Elk Fork. The well is located about 300 yards from the Caskey well No. 2, and is thought to be about its equal in capacity. The company will have the well shot so as to insure a steady, permanent flow of gas.

It is stated that there are 12,000,000 farm hands in America and only 1 per cent. are specially trained. There are also 12,000,000 or so cooks, and not one is sufficiently broken to stand hitched.—Courier Journal.

responsible. If they would keep in stock what the people want, let the people know that they have the goods, and sell them at a reasonable margin of profit, the MAIL ORDER bugaboo would soon cease to trouble their dreams.

Any merchant in West Liberty could do a lucrative mail order business if they only tried. If they would only let the people of Morgan county know what they have to sell, giving the price of their goods, together with the information that any order received by mail or telephone would receive immediate attention, thousands of dollars annually would be kept at home that otherwise find their way into the big mail order houses of St. Louis, Chicago and New York.

GOOD SHOWING.

It is asserted by those in a position to know, that after the town of West Liberty has paid all her expenses for the year 1914, and in addition one-half of the purchase price of a fire engine which cost $350.00, that she will have a neat little sum left in the treasury. The taxes for the year 1914 were no higher than they were for several years previous, and the streets were kept in as good or better condition than they have been for years. It is true they are not yet good, but when have they been good except in the dry seasons when nature made them so? But it is the policy of the present administration, by keeping a close supervision over expenditures and seeing to it that all moneys due the town are collected and accounted for, to try to put some improvements on the streets that will be permanent.

The money heretofore expended upon the streets was worse than wasted. A good, permanent highway cannot be made without proper grading, drainage and the use of some material more substantial than yellow clay. The best investment West Liberty could possibly make would be to surface her principal streets with screened gravel or crushed stone.

I am told, upon good authority, that the little town of Frenchburg, in our neighboring county of Menefee, surfaced her streets with gravel 20 years ago, and that the only work that has since been required to keep them in first-class condition is the filling up of an occasional hole where the wheels of heavily loaded wagons had cut through.

It cost some money, of course, to do this, but the town has saved many times the amount of the original expenditure by so doing.

Why should not West Liberty do likewise? We have the material and the teams and labor waiting to be employed. Why not begin with the opening of spring and grade, drain and surface Main street, beginning at the foot of the bridge, as far as our present finances will go?

insects.

When He had finished He had left over scraps that were too bad to put in the Rattlesnake, the Hyena, the Scorpion, or the Skunk, so He placed all these together, covered it with Suspicion, wrapped it with Jealousy, marked it with a Yellow Streak, and called it a Knocker.

Then, as a compensation for this fearful product, He took a sunbeam and put in it the heart of a child, the love of a mother, the brain of a man, wrapped these in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a mask of velvet, and a grasp of steel, and called it a Booster.

He made him a lover of fields, and flowers, and manly sports, a believer in equality and justice. Ever since these two were created, mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates.—Selected.

Girls, Here's a Lonesome Editor.

The editor of the Guadalupe
Gazette, published at Seguin,
Texas is some young man.

Girls are in Texas, down played about a pretty farm house many passers-by stopped to chat with them. There were some fowls in a field close by, and some one asked: "Did you ever see chickens before?"

"Oh, yes," replied the little girl, knowingly, "we've always seen 'em, only generally it was they was pecked."—The Housewife.

Cure for Gapes.

I notice a great deal said in regard to chicken gapes. Having tried most everything, even to the horse-hair remedy and the gape worm extractor, I find spirits of camphor the best and the surest remedy of them all. Take three or four drops of pure alcohol camphor and mix two or three drops of water and take a small spoon or medicine dropper and pour a small quantity into the windpipe. It kills the worms at once, or at least I have never lost a chicken after using this remedy.

I find that wheat and small grain are about the best remedies for small chicken bowel troubles.—C. C. Hays, in Southern Farm Journal.

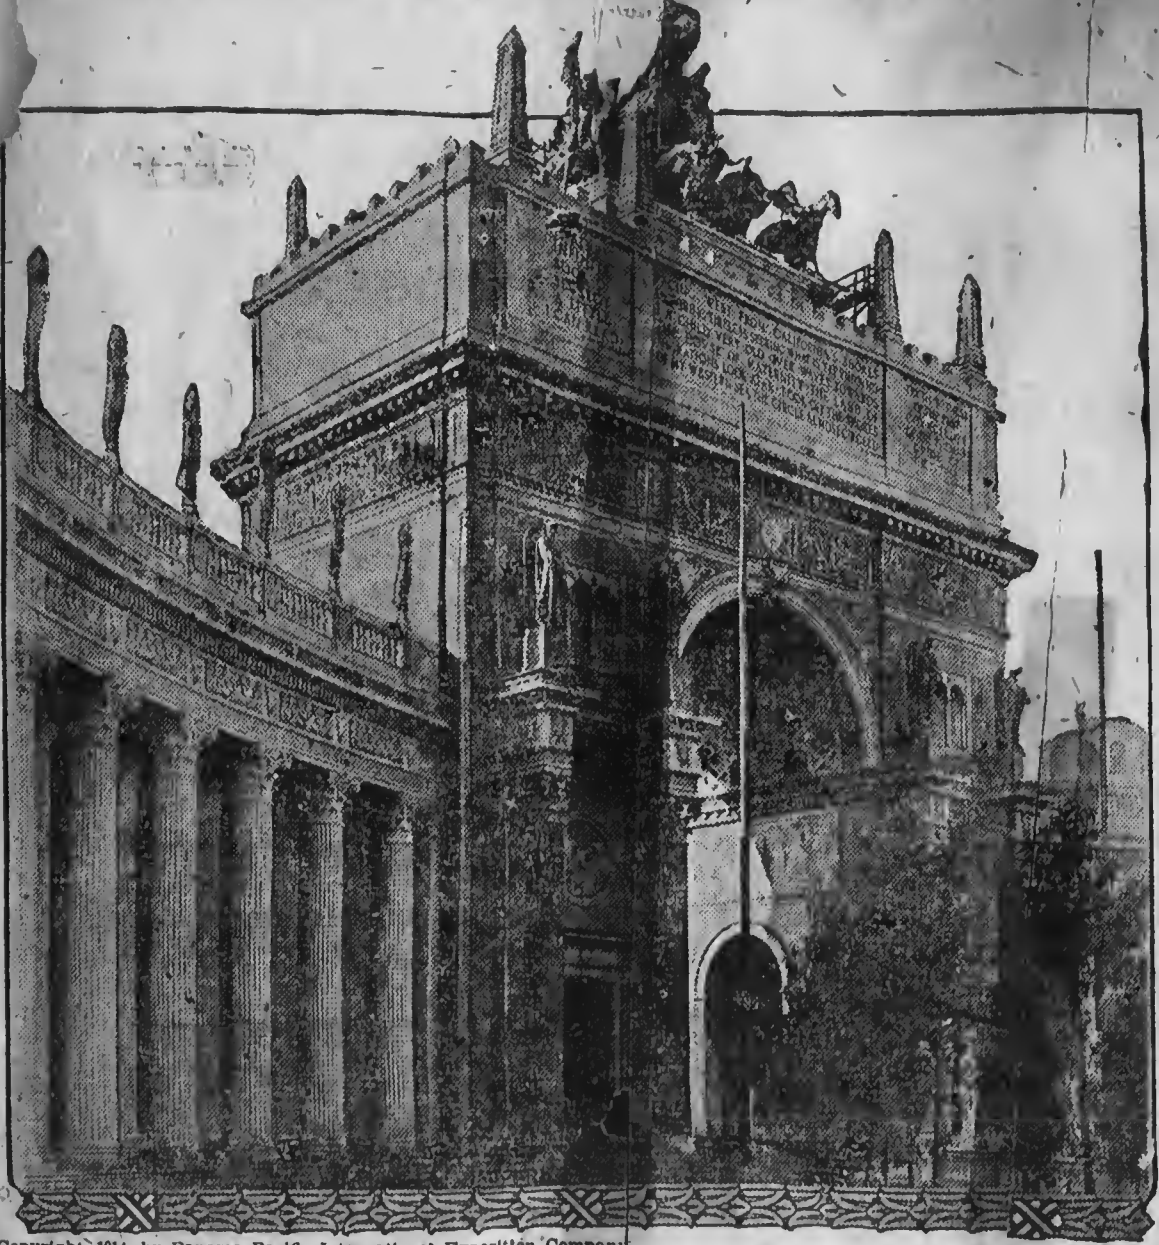

A Palindrome.

As an example of a palindrome, that is a sentence which reads the same backward as forward, a Minneapolis man sends the following speech, which might conceivably have been spoken by Napoleon: "Able was I ere I saw Elba." This is a supreme example of the palindrome, for not only does the sentence read backward the same as forward, but the separate words read backwards as well as forward. This is not true of the famous "Madam, I'm Adam."—Springfield Republican.

Postage Stamps.

Thirty-two millions of postage stamps for the holiday rush, valued at more than $8,000,000, were sent from Washington to post-offices throughout the country. More than $2,400,000 worth were sent to Philadelphia and $1,422,820 worth to New York. The South sent $4,071,000 worth to New York, and the rest to other parts of the country.

TRIUMPHAL "ARCH OF THE SETTING SUN" PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

Copyright, 1914, by Panama Pacific International Exposition Company.

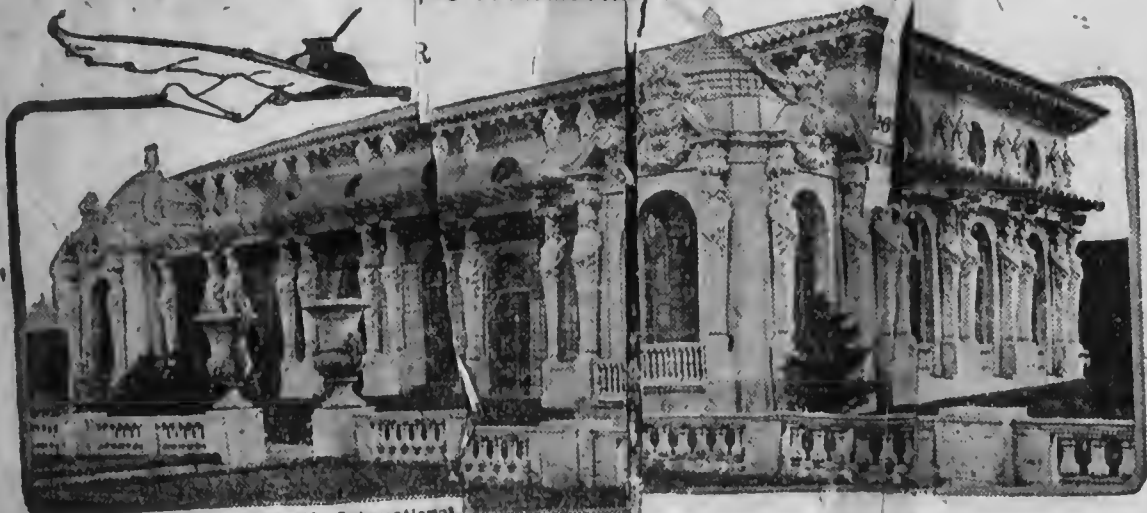

Triumphal Arch of the Setting Sun, 160 feet high, at the western entrance to the Court of the Universe, the largest of the courts of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. This colossal arch reveals the magnitude of the vast exposition. Crowning the arch is a magnificent group of sculpture, "The Nations of the West." In the center of the group is a great prairie schooner, drawn by oxen, bearing "The Mother of Tomorrow" and two lads, "The Hopes of the Future." A figure of "Enterprise" surmounts the wagon top. By the sides are figures representing the American Indian, the plainsman, the Mexican and the Alaskan. The sculptors were A. Stirling Calder, Frederick G. R. Roth and Leo Lentelli. The exposition opens February 20, 1915.

Everybody is welcome at the Press building and correspondents are offered the use of all its facilities.

A Good Louse Powder.

In using any kind of lice powder on poultry it should always be remembered that a single application of powder is not sufficient. When there are lice present on a bird there are always unhatched eggs of lice, ("nits") present, too. The proper procedure is to follow up a first application of powder with a second at an interval of four days to a week. If the birds are badly infested at the beginning it may be necessary to make still a third application.

The lice powder which the station uses is made at a cost of only a few cents a pound in the following way:

Take 3 parts of gasoline, 1 part of crude carbolic acid; to get the proper results only 90-95 per cent. carbolic acid should be used for making lice powder. Weaker acids are ineffective.

Owing to the difficulty in getting the strong crude carbolic acid locally in this state at reasonable prices, the station has experimented to see whether some other more readily obtainable substance could not be substituted for it. It has been found that cresol as good results as the highest grade crude carbolic.

The directions for making the powder are now, therefore, modified as follows:

Take parts of gasoline, and 1 part of crude carbolic acid, 90-95 per cent strength, or if the 90-95 per cent. strength crude carbolic cannot be obtained, take 3 parts of gasoline and 1 part of oil. Mix these together and gradually with stirring and plaster of paris to take up the moisture. As a general rule it will take about four quarts plaster of paris to one quart liquid. The correct amount, however, must be determined by the condition of the powder each case. The liquid at plaster should be thoroughly mixed and stirred so that the will be uniformly distributed throughout the mass of plaster. In enough plaster has been added the resulting mixture should be a dry pinkish brown powder having a fairly strong carbolic odor and a rather less pronounced gasoline odor.

Do not use more plaster in mixing than is necessary to work up the liquid. This powder is to be worked into the feathers of the birds affected with vermin. The bulk of the application should be in the fluff around the vent and on the ventral side of the body and in the fluff under the wings. Its efficiency, which is greater than of any other lice powder known to the writer, and can be easily used.

The Portsmouth Daily Times desires to know what has become of the old-fashioned boy who used to butter into his molasses and eat his "vittles" with his knife. He is working in the city now at $4 a week, smoking cigarettes, eating olive oil on his trying to get enough money together to play "society" and contract appendicitis. —Enoch Crehan in Lexington Herald.

Hassan's Proverb.

King Hassan, well beloved, was wont to say,
When aught went wrong or
or any project failed:
"Tomorrow, friends, will be another day!"
And in that faith he slept and so prevailed.

Long live this proverb! While the world shall roll
Tomorrows, fresh, shall rise from out the night,
And new baptize the indomitable soul.

With courage for its never ending fight,
No one, I say, is conquered till he yields;
And yield he need not, while, like mist from grass,
God wipes the stain of life-old battle fields

From every morning that he brings to pass.
New day, new hope, new courage! let this be,
O soul, thy cheerful creed!
What's yesterday,
With all its shards and whack and grief, to thee?
Forget it then—here lies the victor's way.

—JAMES BUCKHAM in BROTHERHOOD.

The other day while sitting in a depot a little way up the O. & K. line, the writer, was approached by a very old gentleman who very politely introduced himself. Then he said: "My son, where are you from?" I told him that I was from Morgan county, then he asked me what part of Morgan. I told him I was from White Oak creek. He said: "I thought you looked like it." Then he very quickly plucked me to one side and asked me if I had any whiskey? And, of course, I told him that I did not drink. Then I asked him what he knew about White Oak.

And he said that he had been coming to White Oak for over thirty years to get his whiskey. So it happens that there has been whiskey on White Oak for over thirty years. No wonder it has a bad name.

It appears that White Oak got its name from the fine timber that once grew on its hillsides. But that fine timber has long since been cut and floated down its streams, and there is nothing remaining but a few patches of red-brush which has been preserved to hide moonshine stills. White Oak has good schools, and fine people with the exception of a few meddlers, liars and hypocrites, who tries to attend to everybody's business, and who are so contrary that they would float up stream backwards in a good raft tide. I write this in order to show the people that we should have the name of the creek changed. Since the moonshine stills are now where the White Oak timber used to be, and since there are so many meddlers, I suggest that we call it White Whiskey or Meddler's Fork, instead of White Oak.

faculty members, and great interest is manifested by its pupils. Now the question is will you, assist? Are you going to urge the teaching force of your county to come and attend their home school?

Are the citizens going to sacrifice a little in the way of room and board until the school is strong enough to build dormitories? If you will you can have one of the best schools in the state. This is the way some of our best schools have been built.

All students coming to the school should at once see some one of the faculty and get assistance as to board and room and the kind of work you want. Do not come to see about the school and talk with some private citizen and then leave before conversing with some of the Faculty. Tell your troubles to the Principal, tell him the whole story.

All pay pupils are required to pay tuition in advance for each month, and should you have to go home your money will be refunded unless held to cover depredations of your own carelessness.

The Normal students will pay their fees to the Normal teacher, other students will settle with the Superintendent of the school. Parents calling for students should call on the department to which the student belongs or see the Principal.

I find that some students do not understand just what our Normal department means. It means a school in which teachers are to be trained, and not alone to prepare for examination. In connection with the county and State certificate courses we are offering you Methods, Psychology, Educational Economy and Pedagogy.

It is very important that you get into the work as soon as possible.

If you want the best certificate and the best school you ever had, come to West Liberty to school. We bid you welcome.

SEN. CAMDEN IS NOT A CANDIDATE

KENTUCKIAN ASSERTS HE DOES NOT SEEK CHAIR OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

NO OTHER POLITICAL DESIRES

Prefers to Work for Upbuilding of State in the Capacity of a Citizen.

Washington, D. C.—Senator Camden, when asked whether he will be a candidate for governor of Kentucky, gave the following interview:

"About a month ago when I declined to discuss the matter of making the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, it was because I desired to give careful consideration to the expressed wishes of persons throughout the state whose opinions I value. I have now positively decided not to make the race.

"I do feel greatly indebted to the Democracy of the state for my nomination for Senator at the primary last August, and to the people of Kentucky generally for their ratification of that nomination at the polls in November. Having been appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy existing in the Senate, I was naturally anxious to have the appointment approved by the electorate of the Commonwealth. My majority of 39,494 at the primary, carrying ten of the eleven Congressional districts, and of 33,039 at the November election, carrying nine of the eleven districts over my Republican opponent, went far beyond my most sanguine expectations.

"Furthermore as a matter of sentiment I was deeply gratified to occupy a seat in the United States Senate where my father, an old line Democrat, had served as the choice of the state of West Virginia.

"The selection of a Governor, and indeed of all state officers, at this time, is certainly a matter of the utmost importance. Kentucky stands at the door of great opportunities, agricultural, educational and commercial. Whether she enters and takes possession of all that the future has in store for her, depends very largely upon whether her affairs are guided by a broad, sound and constructive policy.

"Whatever may come to pass, it shall always be my purpose as a private citizen to give the faithful, earnest service to my state and party which I feel that every citizen owes, and thus to evidence my profound sense of obligation to the people of Kentucky."

White Oak's New Name.

(The following was sent us signed by the writer.)

With the gradual decrease of the western ranges in the country, the region where 60 per cent. of the sheep in the United States have been maintained for the past decade, and with the increasing taste for lamb which the American people are developing, together with the ever increasing population, the question, "who will produce the future supply of mutton in the form of lamb for the American people?" arises.

For some time Kentucky has been a rather important supply factor in the spring lamb trade, being, as a State, admirably adapted to participate profitably in a large industry of this kind, but up to the present time, she has never produced anywhere near the number of the spring lambs which her natural facilities justify.

The advantages of Kentucky as a sheep State are numerous, the climate is most favorable and permits a pasturing season of long duration. The summers are not extremely hot and the winters are rather moderate. There is an abundance of low priced grazing land, excellent transportation facilities and the best of markets.

At Louisville, Kentucky during the month of June, 1914, the top price of spring lambs was $9.00 or better every day, and the market situation both present and prospective is one that foretells good prices for several years to come. This does not mean that a large proportion of the farmers of the State should go extensively into the sheep business, but there is a place on nearly every farm for a small flock of ewes, maintained as a mutton proposition, with wool as an important by-product.

Kentucky has approximately 258,185 farms carrying less than one million sheep of shearing age, shearing a fleece of 4.6 lbs. average weight. The average acreage of these farms is 85.6 acres of which an average of 55.4 acres are under good cultivation. There is no class of live stock which would more profitably utilize the remaining 30.2 acres of land than the sheep. These farms could easily carry fifteen

SCHOOL NOTES.

BY ELLI W. WILLIAMS.

There has been a substantial increase in all the departments of the school the past week. The future prospects are very flattering. We are expecting it, and we see no reason why we should not have a large turnout of teachers and prospective teachers to the Normal department.

We have pupils from other counties, and even the blue grass section is represented, and we feel that Morgan should and will show an interest in her own school.

Young men and women where do you expect to teach? In Morgan? Then attend your county training school.

If the prospective teachers of this county go to some other school to get their high school work; then on the same theory your County Superintendent has a right to send to some other county to get his teachers. The result is: when your teachers go to another county to get their professional training they feel that county to be better than their own, (and it will be if you patronize it instead of your own) they have inducements to teach at better salaries; for the county that is greater educationally can pay her teachers a better salary, and they procure a school in the other county and by the time it closes they have forgotten their home county—why? Because their home county did not manifest the interest in the teacher and home training. The high school student does the same in its work—The final outcome—some other county gets the cream of your young men and women; gets your money; becomes progressive while your home county can only keep her non progressive teachers. It can't pay for the higher priced teachers, because it has sent its money and best students to the other counties and they did not return.

Run your own county by building a school that will answer the county's needs. The starting of a West Liberty moving school last Monday under very favorable auspices with Prof. E. W. Williams in charge, and while the attendance was not so large as we had hoped and expected, still it was fairly good for the first day. We hope to see the number doubled by next Monday. Those who are expecting to enter this department this session should not delay in doing so, but should enter upon the work at the earliest possible moment. They cannot afford to miss a single day.

We have a first-class man in charge of this work now, and none of the young people of this and the adjoining counties who want to receive a certificate and who want to receive a professional training which will properly equip them for successful teaching, cannot afford to miss this rare opportunity of getting just what they most need.

There were several additions to the High School Department as well as the grades, and altogether we feel that we had a very encouraging opening for the New Year.

Several visitors were present. Rev. L. A. Fryman, pastor of the Methodist church conducted the devotional exercises, and inspiring and enthusiastic addresses were made by Supt. J. W. Davis, Judges Blair and Cisco, of the Board of Education, and Professors Williams and Whitt, of the faculty. We still believe that this will be a record breaking year both as to the number enrolled and the good results obtained.

Supervisors Meet.

The Board of Supervisors for Morgan County met Monday and began the work of going over the Assessor's books. The board is composed of the following gentlemen: H. A. Wells, D. M. Murphy, Jas. Lewis (83), P. S. Smith and Ed Trimble.

All of the above named are fair minded gentlemen with a good knowledge of property values and their work will be done with a sense of equity toward both the county and the taxpayers.

cy and she began her duties last Tuesday.

Miss Mitchell comes to us highly recommended as a lady of personality and as a teacher of several years successful experience. Miss Mitchell received her preparatory training in the famous school conducted by Prof. Jesse at Versailles and her college training at Transylvania University, Lexington.

We bespeak for Miss Mitchell a warm reception on the part of the school as a whole and especially a great success in her work among the young people of the High School.

Odd Bits of News.

Selinsgrove, Pa.—A hog owned by Mason Hoover became enraged because a cow ate some of its food and killed the cow.

Udall, Kan.—H. C. Hall, farmer, unearthed a petrified human skull on his farm near here. Experts say it is more than 10,000 years old.

Panama City, Fla.—A printer found a chunk of ambergris in the bay here the other day. It weighed 9 pounds six ounces and sold for $7,000.

Hyde Park, Okla.—William Rupert caught a magpie in Cimarron, N. M. and made a pet of it. He moved here, bringing the bird with him. The bird escaped from his cage and flew back to his old home, more than 1000 miles. It made the trip in less than three days.

Hutchinson, Kan.—A mouse short-circuited the electric wires here recently and for hours the town was without power or light.

BARBER SHOP

I have opened a barber shop in the building now occupied as a billiard parlor by Mr. Ferguson. First-class work guaranteed. Hair-cutting my specialty. A trial will convince you.

Morgan Circuit Court.
Herbert L. Henry, Adm'r &c., vs. Notice of Sale.
Mattie Lou Henry &c. Deft.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Morgan Circuit Court, rendered at the November, 1914, term thereof, in the above styled cause, the undersigned Master Commissioner, will on MONDAY, JANUARY 11, 1915, (it being County Court day) at 1 o'clock, p.m., or thereabouts, proceed to offer at public auction, to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of six months, at the front door of the court house in the town of West Liberty, Morgan county, Kentucky, the property mentioned in the judgment, to-wit:

FIRST TRACT.—A one-half interest in the following described lot of land, fronting on and abutting on the county road just north of the Index Store Company and L. A. Lykins' lot and bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a set stone on the east side of the county road; thence running a north course with the county road a distance of 300 feet to a small drain a set stone; thence an easement 200 feet to a set stone on the bank of small drain; thence with said drain a south course 100 feet to the corner of L. A. Lykins' lot; thence a west course with his line 119 feet to the beginning.

SECOND TRACT.—Bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the south east corner of L. A. Lykins' lot and on the right of way of the Caney Valley Railway; thence a north course 277 feet with the east line of the L. A. Lykins' lot, and the east line of the lot above described, and with the meanders of small drain to a point 90 feet beyond the north east corner of the lot above described to a set stone; thence an east course 300 feet to a point or set stone at the right of way of the Caney Valley Railway; thence nearly a west course with the right of way of said railroad to the beginning.

The purchaser will be required to give approved personal security for the payment of the purchase money, to have the force and effect of a replevin bond, bearing legal interest from day of sale according to law.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms. A lien will be retained on the property sold till all the purchase money is paid.

Bond payable to S. R. Collier, Master Commissioner of this court.

of all bodily power. Mrs. Rosa Bonner, 825 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I have been suffering with nervous prostration for nine or ten years. Have tried many of the best doctors in Birmingham, but they all failed to reach my case. I would feel as if I was smothering; finally I went into convulsions. My little girl saw advertised in the papers and I at once began to take it. I continued to take it for some time and now I am well."

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep; if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nervine
has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you. Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—An interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without it tiring me, and am doing my work.

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women in its 30 years of wonderful success. It should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Write for Cardui, the woman's tonic, free of charge. Address: Dr. J. C. Williams, 1111 Broadway, New York City. Enclose 10c for postage. For Women's Edition.

pro- hibito. election, is held re- some pending litigation that prior to the election, provided the testants prosecute their appeal and execute supersedeas bond. Bourbon county was "wet" prior to the election and could not become "dry" until 60 days after the judgment of the contest board was entered of record. This judgment was not entered until November 11, and so the day upon which the county would become "dry" under the new act would be January 11, but before that time the "wets" will prosecute their appeal and this will be within 60 days on the rendition of the judgment as the code provides. With a supersedeas issued prior to January 11 an order will direct that nothing more be done in the matter until the circuit court passes on the contest, the "wets" say. From that decision either may appeal, but a supersedeas bond executed by the "drys" would not close the saloon provided the "wets" won in the circuit court, because the territory was "wet" prior to the election.

Objects to "Greasy" Postoffice.
Postoffices, even though located in mountain "runs," coves and hollows, should have euphonious names, in the opinion of Postmaster Burlison. That is the reason why Kentucky no longer has a postoffice called "Lower Greasy." Postmaster General Burlison just wouldn't stand for it. It was not the "Lower" that he objected to. It might have been "Upper," or "Big" or "Little" or "Mueh" Greasy and it would not have made any difference to the postoffice head. He objected to a postoffice being greasy, and for that reason the name of Lower Greasy, Ky., has been changed to Offutt, Ky. A member of congress to whom the postmaster general talked quotes him as saying: "The name Lower Greasy as applied to a postoffice in Kentucky is apt to detract from the business of that office."

New York.—Contrary to the general impression, it is said that American business interests will not be allowed to bid for captured German and Austrian steamships when they are placed on sale in England, following their condemnation by the British prize courts.

$1,000,000 FIRE AT CAMDEN.

Philadelphia.—Firemen of this city were kept busy fighting two fires which caused more than a million dollars' damage in Philadelphia and Camden. Trains of the New York Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad were held up for more than an hour and a half by the flames, which destroyed the lumber yard of the Charles Eate Co. and 17 dwellings on Glenwood avenue, in North Philadelphia, while traffic was stopped in Philadelphia and Reading Camden, N. J.

Insane.

Lee Smith, 21 years old, who lives on White oak branch on Elk Fork, was tried on a writ of lunacy in Judge Dennis' Court yesterday, pronounced insane and ordered taken to the Eastern Kentucky Assylum for the insane at Lexington for treatment. This is the second time Smith has been pronounced insane.

Pie Supper.

There will be a pie supper at Jones creek school house January 9th for the benefit of the new Baptist church. Every body is cordially invited, and a good time is promised. Good order will be maintained.

Largest Cotton Crop on Record.

Washington, D. C. Dec.—The Department of Agriculture estimates the 1914 cotton crop at 15,969,000 bales. This is the largest production in the history of the cotton industry. The 1911 crop held the record to the present year, with a production of 15,960,701 bales. It is estimated that there is at least two million bales in the field, much of it deserted by discouraged farmers which will probably never gathered.

The 1914 crop also ranks among the largest in production per area, averaging 208 pounds per acre and reaches the low water mark in price officially estimated for the 1914 crop is 6 cents per pound against an average price of 12 cents per pound in 1913 and a production of 182 pounds per acre.

Swift & Co. Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C. For three cents will send a nice wall calendar, size 10x11 inches. Send five (5) one cent stamps and get the pocket dairy and wall calendar.

Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly,
And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer.

He never says: "Stop it; I can not afford it,
I'm getting more papers than now I can read."

It always says, "Send it; our people all like it—
In fact, we all think it a help and a need."

Now welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum,
Now it makes our pulse throb; how it makes our heart dance.

We outwardly thank him; we inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber who pays in advance.

TOO MANY LAWS TO ENFORCE.

This nation as a whole, and almost every state in it—Kentucky not excepted—suffers from too much law making. Senator Root told the American Bar Association that in five years from 1909 to 1913 inclusive, Congress and the State Legislatures passed 62,014 laws. No one knows how many thousands of laws were in force before 1909, but the 62,014 new ones repealed many of those previously in force, and amended many more, with no end of resulting confusion. Relatively few of the laws are vicious enough to work direct harm, but hundreds of them are harmful indirectly, for they are unnecessary, inconsistent, and impossible to enforce.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE.

The world's record for corn-raising belongs to Walter Deenson, an Alabama boy, yet in his early teens. Last year this boy raised 232 bushels of corn on a single acre of land, which is the largest yield per acre ever recorded.
This remarkable record was made by an ordinary boy on ordinary land. He became interested in corn-raising and studied into the matter of the kind and proper use of fertilizers and proper cultivation. As a result of putting his knowledge to practical use, he has raised 232 bushels of corn on one acre of land, thereby winning the championship of the world. What Walter L. Deenson has done serves to show what a common every day, out-and-out boy can do if he is given the chance. There are thousands of ambitious boys on the rich farms of this State who never know what it is to be encouraged to take an interest in agriculture or stockraising. If these boys were given a small plot of ground and some seed—corn for instance—to plant and cultivate, a circus would not be able to turn their thoughts very far away from the "enchanted spot" where a wonderful harvest will be theirs to reap. A boy may not be able to raise 232 bushels of corn on his father's land, but he can do well enough to make his efforts worth while, and the probability is that he will make his acre yield many fold more than the average yield of his father's farm.

What boy in Morgan county is going after the championship record for this year of 1915?

Think this Over.

When a newspaper gives you a lot of free advertising in order to boom some concert or entertainment in which you are interested, keep track of the lines that are printed week by week and multiply that number by the regular advertising rates of the paper.

Compare the results with the actual money value of any favor that you get from any other business concern. Then take into consideration the fact that advertising and circulation are the only two things that a newspaper has to sell. Now, in these days of higher prices, how much do you think it ought to give away.

Brevity.

Brevity may or may not be the "soul of wit," but there is no question in regard to brevity being the soul of conversation now-days. The aim of the up-to-the second conversationalist is to cut all corners and get there in the shortest possible time.

In days of yore a man was polite under all circumstances, no matter how much time it consumed. Then he would say "My dear sir, I desire that you understand thoroughly that I comprehend fully and in all detail the information you are endeavoring to impart to me."

Now he says "Gotcha!"

Hot In The Collar.

If you don't want this paper, stop it right now. We don't want you to have it one hour longer. We have lost scores and scores of dollars by trusting such as you. The time had run out for which they had paid and the paper had gone on to them a year and sometimes two years over time, and we would ask them for pay, and all of a sudden their honorless souls would find out that they had not wanted the paper and they would say they did not feel like they owed us anything. If you have any honor, this doesn't mean you. It is meant for the dead beats.—Mun-
